We apologize for those receiving multiple copies of this message.

Dear Colleagues,

Thank you to those of you who have registered and/or submitted an abstract to the conference HEDLA 2014. You will find below a short summary explaining how to pay your registration fee.

Once you have created your account and made your registration (actually, pre-registration) on the conference website,

<http://hedla2014.sciencesconf.org>,

we will send individually to each of you, by e-mail, a bill with the amount of your fee.

The payment of the registration amount can be made ONLY via a bank to bank transfer (no credit card, no cash, no check, no on-site payment, ...).

Your registration to HEDLA 2014 will be effective once the payment corresponding to the amount of your fee has been received in our bank account (the details and data of the HEDLA 2014 bank account will be provided in the e-mail when sending your bill).

Please start the process quickly after receiving your bill because it might take a few weeks.

Best regards,
Serge Bouquet
